Testing

When your answer on a question is "sometimes", you need to indicate "yes". When you have answered 15 times or more "yes" on the above questions, there is a suspicion of NLD. For a clinical or psychological diagnosis we would like to refer you to a Diagnosis Centrum.

Background detection instrument

This detection list for adults is formulated by the working group methodology of the project Learning Gateway. The list is based on the children's detection list and is transposed for adults. The list was tested among a hundred adults with and without NLD. It is a detection instrument and does not make diagnosis.
